In the bible we read:
"Many that believed came, and confessed, and showed their deeds. Many of them also which used curious arts (witchcraft & wizardry) brought their books together, and burned them before all men; and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver. So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed."

Acts 19:18-20

J.K. Rowling is herself a learned witch:
"J.K. Rowling says she took more than a third of the research and the content of these 'so-called' fantasy books from occult research. She has drawn from history and mythology. She admits she has drawn from the religions of the Celtics, Druidic, Satanic, Wiccan and pagan roots and written them into her fiction books for children."

CANDY

Candy these days contains powerful neurotoxins such as aspartame (splenda and other artificial sweeteners which cause brain damage and will give you cancer after continued consumption), glucose-fuctose, glutamate and other preservatives and heinous sugars. All in all, candy weakens the body and mind allowing you to be more easily accessed by those spirits who wish to manipulate you. And what's worse... you're paying good money for it!

ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRIES

Below are a list of music and movies that glorify the principles, rituals, sacrifices and sadistic murders, which are the foundations of Halloween.

1. Black Sabbath: Bill Ward, drummer for Black Sabbath admitted that their first 3 albums were channeled from the dark side. Watch they sold their souls for rock 'n' roll for his testimony.
2. Buffalo Bill: based on serial killer Ed Gein, who cut off his victim's flesh and wore it as clothing/masks. Slayer wrote a song called "Dead Skin Mask" glorifying him.
3. Chucky: The series starts when a Satanist is mortally wounded and recites a satanic spell (which is common in Satanism/occult) to transfer his soul into a doll. The whole series is based on the satanic spirit trying to inhabit a child's body because of its innocence and youth.
4. Freddy Krueger: based on the notorious serial killer Ted Bundy. Actor Robert Englund told Slaughterhouse magazine: "I just read an article on Ted Bundy, so a lot of my imagery is based on him."
5. Hannibal Lecter: Based on numerous serial killers, namely Pietro Pacciani, Albert Fish, Stepan Chikatilo. Stepan's brother, Andrei, also a serial killer, was the inspiration for the Slayer song "Psychopathy Red."
6. Highway to Hell, by AC/DC (Anti-Christ/Devil Child): "... Hey Satan, paid my dues, playing in a rocking band. Hey mama, look at me, I'm on my way to the promised land, Highway to Hell..."
7. It: It's quite eerie to learn the similarities between Stephen King's It and serial killer John Wayne Gayce. Both killed youth selectively, both wore clown make up, It lived underground and Gacy buried his victims underground, It was depicted by paintings in colonial times and Gayce painted clowns while on death row.
8. Marilyn Manson: "Music is the strongest form of magic."
9. Michael Myers: He was based on the serial killer Jack the Ripper. The article Ripped straight from the Headlines: Jack the Ripper's Public Relations states: "Even though 'Slasher' films originated with Hitchcock's Psycho in 1960 – their maturation came when the movie Halloween applied the ideology of the Ripper to the villain Michael Myers…not only has this plot spawned numerous sequels and spin-offs, but it also reinforces the Ripper's message…"
10. Thriller by Michael Jackson: Throughout the video we see the satanic references found in the abominations listed in Deuteronomy 18:9. Dancing with the dead, glorifying zombies, and not the least of which Michael turns at the end to reveal his serpent eyes.

MONEY, MONEY, DEATH

Movies and music geared towards Halloween are most of the time restricted for children under 14 years of age or so, but they market serial killer costumes, video games, Harry Potter etc., to children. We condemn people like Paul Bernado, Marc Lepine, Timothy McVeigh, Col. Russel Williams, but we glorify serial killers in the entertainment.

All of the elements of Halloween are based in real practiced beliefs of past and today. Kidnappings are rampant leading up to Halloween (according to the FBI) and other satanic holiday's, most of the victims being children. Yet our children are taught to glorify a holiday they are a victim of spiritually, mentally, physically and financially.

Helloween is ritual of death! There's nothing innocent, pure or wholesome about it!

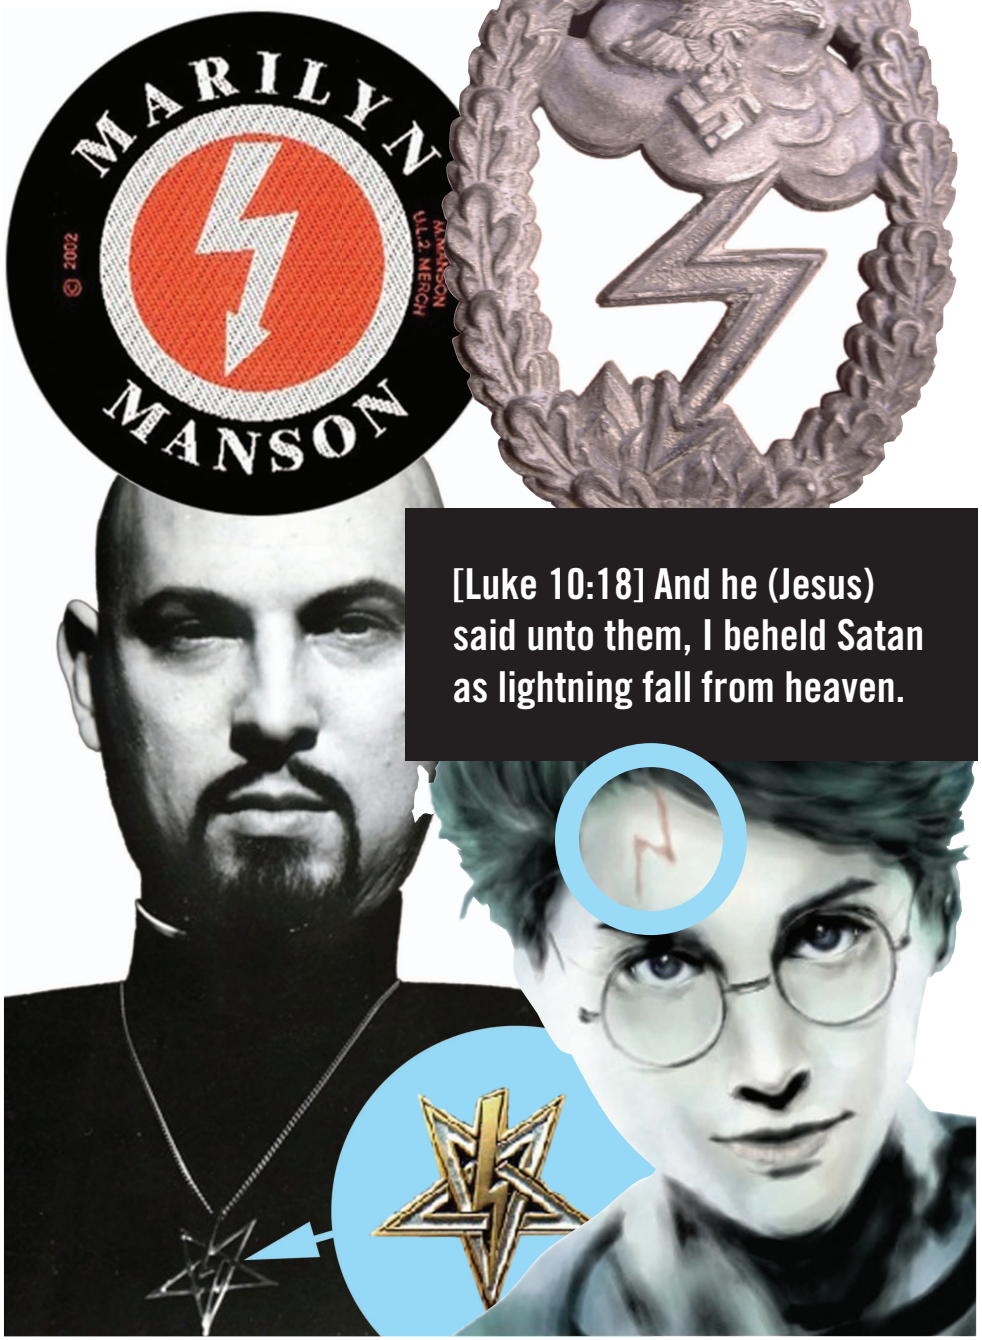
Helloween

Satan's Playground



[Luke 10:18] And he (Jesus) said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.

Halloween is a dangerous tradition with its roots in satanism and occultism; you should NOT participate in it. It should come as no surprise that the night before Helloween is called Devil's Night, where the satanic rituals take place in honour of their lord, satan.

"And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather EXPOSE them."

— Ephesians 5:11

WHERE DOES HALLOWEEN COME FROM?

"As Darkness set in on October 31st, the clan of druids would put on their white robes and hoods. They would carry sickles and Celtic crosses as they began a torchlight procession. At the beginning of this procession, a male slave was killed and dragged by rope fastened to his left* ankle. The druids would walk until they came to a house or village where they shouted the equivalent of trick or treat. The treat was a slave girl or any female given to the Druids. If the people refused to give up the girl "treat", blood was taken from the dead slave and used to draw a Hexagram (six pointed star) on the door or wall of the village. Spirits of the 'horned hunter of the night' (satan) were invoked by the Druids to kill someone in that house or village by fear that night."

— Pastor David J. Meyer, Halloween and The Forces of Darkness. (Former astrologer and occultist)

WHAT IS A HEXAGRAM?

"One of the most utilized occultic symbols is the triangle. A triangle which points downward represents the deity and is called the Deity's triangle (spiritual). The triangle pointed up, it is called the earthly triangle, pyramid triangle. These two definitions of the triangle are of standard occultic belief."

— Symbolism of the Eastern Star, by Shirley Plessner.

"When both triangles merge the concept of Helloween comes together…the spiritual world for a short time blends in with the physical world. Only within the last fifty years has the hexagram been linked with Israel. The hexagram has nothing to do with the Jewish nation, in fact, it has been link to satanic cults in the past."

— Adoptive Rite Ritual, Robert Macoy; pg 237

"Helloween….when the Druids would knock on the doors of castles demanding the young maidens or princess for their sacrifices. If they were not given a maiden, they would paint a hexagram (Star of Solomon) on the door to tell the demons that all should die in this household."

— O.J. Graham, The Six pointed Star; pg. 98

"The Six Pointed Star…according to the Rosicrucians…was known to the ancient Egyptians. Six triangles…is the Egyptian hieroglyphic for the 'Land of the spirits.' Ancient Egyptian Seal of Solomon, in the Astro-mythology of the Egyptians, we find belief in the first man-god, Horus…and his death and resurrection as Amsu. This six pointed star was the first sign or hieroglyphic of Amsu, the risen Horus, was the first man-god risen in spiritual form."

— The Universal Jewish Encyclopedia

"The Hexagram is used to conjured up Demons, making them appear in this dimension to do the bidding of the witch. Hexagrams call forth demons to place spells and curses on the intended victim. The word "hex" comes from this practice."

— Joseph Marquis, Secrets of the Illuminati. (former Illuminist Satanist)

"The six pointed star is used in Masonic work and is also found in other well known secret orders."

— Mary Ann Slipper, Symbolism of the Eastern Star; pg 14

"A hexagram must be present to call forth a demon. It is a very powerful tool to invoke Satan."

— Bill Schnoebelen, former Satanist

HISTORY OF HALLOWEEN

"During the night of October 31st, the enchanted souls were freed by the Druid god, Samhain (the god of the dead, drawn as a grim reaper with a sickle), and taken into the Druid heaven. This festival was always accompanied by animal and human sacrifices and linked with all kinds of magic."

"In spite of the coming of Christianity, this pagan festival continued to be observed until the sixth century. Gregory the Great (540-604 AD) advised the Archbishop of Cantenbury to retain hitherto Druid sacrifices and celebrate them in honor of the Christian saints."

— Occult ABC, Kurt Koch; pg. 87, pg. 88

"Christian holidays were deliberately set at times that had been sacred since the earliest pagan days. The Christians knew the power of paganism had over the people, and usually, renamed rather than reinvented holidays."

— Witches, by Erica Jong; pg. 124

"Helloween is a day that witches celebrate above all other days. It is a festival of the dead, and represents the "end of the beginning of the witches year. It marks the beginning of the death and destruction associated with winter. At this time the power if the underworld is unleashed, and spirits are supposedly freed to roam about the earth; it is considered the best time to contact spirits."

— Halloween and Satanism, P. Phillips and J.H. Robie, pg. 146

"There is another religious group which is equally serious about its Helloween celebrations: the Satanists. Halloween to them is more sinister and direct celebration of death and Satan; they celebrate it as one of his two highest holy days. At Halloween the sacrifices of some of these satanic cults are unspeakably vicious and brutal."

— Like Lambs to the slaughter, Johanna Michaelson, pg. 190

"There is no question halloween has a purely pagan origin, under a thin Christian cloak, the feast of all souls conceals an ancient pagan festival of the dead."

— Anthropologist Sir James Frazer.

"There shall not be found among you anyone that makes his son or daughter to pass through fire, or use divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits (demons), or a wizard or a necromancer. For all that do these things are an abomination unto the Lord."

— Deuteronomy 18:10-12

THE HARRY POTTER PHENOMENON

Children are sold witchcraft, magic and sorcery through Harry Potter. If the common excuse is "At least they are reading" then there should be no problem if they read Playboy magazine or the Satanic Bible. After all, reading is reading, right? Harry Potter books went on sale after midnight, near the witching hour, 3 AM. 3 AM is the witching hour because it's a mockery of Christ's death on the cross at 3 PM. A lot of Harry Potter books were "accidentally" published backwards or upside down. This was an homage to the occult, as it's known in the occult world as back-masking, which means that specific songs played backwards reveal a satanic message.

For instance: When Barack Obama said, "Yes, we can", backwards it was "Thank you, Satan!" The documentary They Sold their Souls for Rock 'n' Roll emphasizes back-masking. High level witches believe that there are 7 satanic princes (mockery of God's number). The 7th of which has no name. Voldermort in the Harry Potter series is said to mean 'The one who must not be named.' Characters and places in the Harry Potter series such as Draco, Erised, Hermes, Azkaban, Circe, Slytherin are all names of demons. Harry Potter is a wizard who practices witchcraft.

1 Samuel 15:23 tells us what God thinks of witchcraft:

"For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft."

Curses can be placed by witches in books, specifically a random symbol on a page. Once the reader reads that word the curse or spirit is released and inhabits the reader. For example, the lightning bolt seared into Harry's forehead is the exact image of the pendant worn by head Satanic priest of the Church of Satan, Anton LaVey. Jesus also said he saw Satan fall from heaven 'as lightning.'

ORIGINS OF THE TRADITIONS OF HALLOWEEN

Jack-o-lantern: Based on a story of an evil man named Jack. One day Jack tricked the devil into going up into a tree and carved a cross on the bark so he couldn't get down. Jack made the devil agree not to send him to hell when he died. When Jack did died, he didn't go to Heaven or hell, so he was condemned to walk the streets at night as a damned soul. He held a turnip containing an ember from hell, which the devil gave him. When this tradition was brought to America the turnip was replaced with a pumpkin. The pumpkin represents a damned soul which is why they are carved with faces.

Wearing masks: This was done by the villagers to fool evil spirits that came through the spiritual door that the person bearing the mask was also a spirit, and would therefore, be left alone. Usually, these masks were made of the flesh of sacrificed slaves.

Costumes: During pagan sacrifices druids wore animal skins on their bodies and heads, watching as they burnt victims alive as a sacrifice to their god.

Bats, spiders, owls, etc: Use to instill or play on your fears. The owl in the occult represents enlightenment of Lucifer (satan).

'Trick or treat?': This was started by druids going up to villager homes and asking for a female sacrifice. If none was provided, then the druid would paint (using the blood of a dead slave) a hexagram on the door, letting the evil spirits know that this house should be attacked. Erroneously this was called a 'trick'. If a woman was given to them the house would not be painted and the druids would move to the next home; a.k.a. a 'treat.' Think about it: Why would you not take candy from strangers normally but do it on Halloween?
